

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1890.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A fire and growing city of 5,000 inhabitants, situated in a county of 10,000. The Louisville and Nashville has two lines of railroad in the county and the people have recently voted aid to two new roads. Largest tobacco growing county in the world. Wheat, corn, hay, coal, live stock and fruits produced for export in large quantities. The city has four banks with an aggregate capital of $1,000,000. A planing mill and wagon factory, three carriage factories, line factory, tobacco manufactory, two foundries, three brick yards, broom factory, steam laundry, ice factory, two large flouring mills in the city and several in the country, splendid driving par just one opera house. Five turnpikes centering in Hopkinsville. Building and Loan Association, Commercial Club, a telephone exchange, numerous streets and houses and city lighted by gas. Macadamized streets and brick sidewalks all over the city. Eleven churches, two colleges, a high school and the finest system of public schools, while and colored, in the State. West Kentucky Lunatic Asylum with a population of 60, two miles east of the city. A $100,000 court house with town clock in the dome. A fine fire department and a company of State Guards. Little River turnpike an adequate supply of water for all purposes. Real estate and rents cheap. Fine opening for woolen mill, pork packing establishment, fruit canneries, tannery and many other enterprises. Climate mild and invigorating and exceedingly healthful.

The Sanborn Conference has ended. The United States gets all she demanded.

Gen. Jubal A. Early visited Winchester, Va., Wednesday, for the first time since the war.

The New Hampshire Legislature has elected David C. Goodell, Republican, for Governor, and his inauguration will take place to-day.

Hon. John Young Brown, of Henderson, is an avowed candidate for Governor. Mr. Brown is one of the ablest men in the State, and if nominated would make a canvass seldom if ever equalled in Kentucky for brilliancy.

Justice Gray, of the U. S. Supreme Court, and Miss Jeanette Matthews, daughter of the late Justice Matthews, were married at Washington on the 4th inst. They will spend a month in the country and then go to Europe.

Mrs. Gantz, a woman now in San Francisco, claims to have aided Wm. B. Tascott, the murderer of Anos J. Snell, in making his escape. She says he is now in Canton, China, and that she has received letters from him since his arrival. Mrs. Gantz was under the influence of liquor while giving this information.

Brother Walton, of the Interior Journal, is another editor with a libel suit on his hands. The grand jury of Laurel county has indicted him for criminal libel for publishing a letter from London stating that Judge Boyd had suppressed libelous statements against Republicans for election frauds. The indictment was returned upon instructions from the offended Judge.

The Danville Advocate in speaking of the Senatorial race says: "The Richmond Register is of the opinion that a better man than either 'Joe or Jim' can be found, and that the Old Commonwealth will not be averse to making a change. The Register mentions no names, but we feel pretty certain it will not be necessary to go beyond this district to find the man it has in view. His name may be Jim or it may not; but whether it is or not, we know of a Jim that will fill the bill as acceptably, if not more satisfactorily than Joe, and we would like to see his name before the Legislature."

A "girl preacher," has entered the pulpit in the northern portion of the State. Her name is Mary A. Lemous and she was born in Pendleton county ten years ago. She is referred to as the "little evangelist," by the Dover News, which says of her: "Her sermons, or whatever they may be called, are from thirty to forty minutes in length. When she launches out upon her subject she is calm and collected, and she remains so throughout the entire discourse. She sticks close to her text, her words are well chosen, and her arguments backed up by profound reasoning. Her music deficiency seems to be in her method of delivery, the rising inflection of her voice being brought into constant use in regular saw-saw fashion. It is the general opinion of those who hear her that her sermons are memorized."

The Johnstown calamity is the most terrible recorded in the history of the civilized world within the last fifty years. There have been greater calamities, but they came as plagues, earthquakes or volcanoes, and appeared in remote ages or in heathen countries far removed from the interests of civilization. Nothing like this horror was thought possible in this country, in the light of the present scientific advancement and civilization. The later reports increase the horrors of the terrible disaster. Flood and fire came hand in hand and destroyed from 6,000 to 10,000 lives—the exact number will never be known—and then came famine and drenching rains to threaten with starvation and add to the discomforts of the unhappy survivors. The air was made offensive with the odors of decaying human flesh and this brought on sickness and pestilence and the improvised hospitals are crowded with sufferers. Insanity has found many victims and crime has been seen in its most revolting forms. Dead bodies have been robbed and mutilated to secure valuable jewelry. Horror has been heaped upon horror until the heart grows sick at the accounts.

WORSE AND WORSE.

Six Thousand Searchers Unearthing The Dead.

The Loss of Life Will Probably Reach 10,000.

The reports which are daily sent out from the ruined district of Pennsylvania confirm the belief that not less than 10,000 lives were lost by the giving away of the walls of Conemaugh. There are now six thousand searchers in the valley and as the unearthing of the dead progresses, men, women and children are found wedged in between timber, houses, rocks, and buried in the mud. Partially burned and crushed bodies are found in the debris, and disease is doing its deadly work. Appeals for aid have been sent out to the world, which are being promptly replied to by all humane people.

As the work of the flood is revealed the detailed accounts grow more sickening and the wonder at such a providence becomes more inscrutable. 243 bodies were recovered last Wednesday, most of whom were identified. It is feared that the wife of Gen. Lew Wallace is among the lost, as she has never been heard from since she left her home on a visit a day or two before the calamity.

Johnstown, Pa., June 5.—In the midst of this scene of death and desolation rearing Providence seems to be exerting a subduing influence. Six days have elapsed since the great disaster, and the temperature still remains low and chilly in the Conemaugh Valley. When it is remembered that in the ordinary June weather of this locality from two to three days are sufficient to bring an untended body to a degree of decay and putrefaction that would render it almost impossible to prevent the spread of disease throughout the valley, the lamentable benefits of this cool weather are almost beyond appreciation.

The work of clearing up the wreck and removing the bodies is now being conducted most systematically. Over 600 men are at work in the various portions of the valley, and each little gang of twenty men is directed by a foreman, who is under orders from the general headquarters. As the rubbish is gone over and the bodies and scattered articles of value recovered, the debris is piled up in one high mass and the torch applied. In this way the valley is assuming a less devastated condition.

At the Johnstown station, on the east side of the river, everything was quiet, yet considerable work is being done. This is the chief commissary station, and this morning by 2 o'clock 15,000 people were fed and about 600 families furnished with provisions.

THE WORK OF REGISTRATION. At the different registration places 18,000 residents of the devastated district had registered as alive and well. The total population of this district was between 40,000 and 50,000. This morning 1,000 men arrived here in charge of Philby Flynn, and at 11 o'clock they had succeeded in doing more work at clearing away the debris than has been done heretofore.

Seventy-five carpenters and twenty car-loads of provisions came with the laboring men. This morning another delegation of workmen came up from Brecked.

Conservative men are of the opinion that the number of people destroyed will reach from 12,000 to 15,000. It must be remembered that a very large proportion of this loss is made up of children.

IN THE MENOR. The little ones lie in dozens where the adults are in half dozens, but there is and has been a much greater difficulty in recovering the bodies of the children. Being lighter and smaller they have often been swept into out-of-the-way recesses that are almost inaccessible, as they are more easily carried away. A very great proportion of the children have been swept down the river and their bodies driven in under overhanging banks, under thickets and in other places where there is only a sparse population and where the search is not carried on in a carefully organized manner. The drift of opinion among intelligent men, physicians, engineers and railroad men is that from 1,000 to 1,500 of the bodies will never be found.

A THOUSAND FUNERALS. The gray mists had scarcely arisen from the hills this morning until a thousand funerals were coursing their green shades. There were no hearse, few mourners and as little solemnity as formality. The majority of the coffins were of rough pine. The pall-bearers were strong farmers, and instead of six pall-bearers to one coffin there were generally six coffins to one man. Silently the processions moved, and silently they neared their burials in the lap of mother earth. No minister of God was there to pronounce a last blessing as the casket rattled down, except a few faithful priests who had followed some mangled representatives of their faith to the grave.

AWFUL CONDITION OF THE CORPSES. A fact that has been heretofore overlooked in the awful strain is the soiled condition of the corpses. Fully one-third of those recovered have been so mangled, bruised or charred that identification was impossible. In an ordinary flood this would not

The readers of the KENTUCKIAN will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

CREAM OF NEWS.

Is it Poisoning?

Mr. Joe Hatcher is a respectable farmer, living near Trenton, Todd county, Ky. Just now he has an affliction among his stock that he is unable to understand or account for in any way, except it be poisoning.

Friday four of his fine mules and one horse were taken sick, and Saturday, they were all dead. Yesterday three more were sick and by this morning have likely died also, as the terrible disease seems to be fatal. The stock give down in their fore legs, swell up under the jaws and die in a few hours, all of which seems to indicate poisoning. A great misfortune to a good citizen.—Clarksville Progress.

Asylum Board.

The regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Asylum was held Tuesday. The usual accounts, aggregating something over $7,000, were allowed. The superintendent reported 13 patients discharged during the month—10 cured and 3 improved. One patient, Martha A. Duncan, of Logan county—blind during the month. A committee was appointed to consider plans for increasing the water supply of the Asylum. The coal contract for 1929 was let to E. L. Foulke for $8.23 per hundred bushels.

Morria Caught.

Len Morris, who is charged with shooting Cushman Henderson at the latter's distillery near Pilot rock a few weeks ago, was captured in that vicinity Wednesday by Alf Dossett and Bob Martin and lodged in jail here. Yesterday morning he gave bond in the sum of $200 and was released. His examining trial comes up this morning.

City Court News.

Mollie Moore, col., street walking, acquitted.

Ricketts & Davis, permitting lewd women in saloon, acquitted.

One case drunkenness, fined $5 and costs, amount paid and defendant released.

Two cases breach of peace, trial set for 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Douglas Grange.

Douglas grange will hold their first annual stock sale at Belle Station on the C. & P. railroad to-day. A general invitation has been extended and preparations have been made to entertain the large crowd which is expected to be present.

A Mangled Hand.

Randall Baber, col., had his right hand badly mutilated late Wednesday afternoon by his coming in contact with a saw while at work at Forbee & Bro's. planing mill. Three fingers had to be amputated and his injury is a very painful one.

Relief for the Suffering.

A collection will be taken at the Baptist church Sunday night for the benefit of the Conomah valley flood sufferers. Citizens who sympathize with these bereaved people should send to them a liberal contribution.

An Earthquake.

An earthquake was distinctly felt in the city and county Wednesday night at fifteen minutes past 8 o'clock. The shock lasted about half a minute and shook things up quite lively in some sections.

HERE AND THERE.

Call on C. B. Webb for fine Buggies and handy Road Carts.

Go to A. G. Bush for boots and shoes and save money.

C. A. Brasher, Deputy County Court Clerk, has resigned.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the case of Miller vs. the City of Hopkinsville, from this county.

The Model Roller Milling Co., at Trenton, are having a large store room added to their buildings.

Jas. R. Wiles, a Fairview merchant, made an assignment Saturday to Dr. E. S. Stuart, for the benefit of his creditors.

A poorly dressed, good-for-nothing looking man and woman, with two small children have been "doing" the town this week.

Excavations are being made for the new buildings to be put up by Mr. John C. Latham opposite the Galt & Galt warehouse.

Rev. J. N. Probst is presenting with a handsome gold headed cane Tuesday, by some of the members of his church.

Cave Johnson, J. A. Boyd, T. E. Ilves and J. C. Thomas qualified as constables in their respective magisterial districts, Monday.

Dr. Sargent, Nisbet and Young have received their appointments as pension examiners for this county and were sworn in Wednesday.

The supper at the Court house Tuesday evening, given by the ladies of the Episcopal church was largely attended. They made about $70.

A full attendance is requested from the churches composing Circles No. 7 and 8 at Concord on to-morrow and next day. Provisions on the ground.

Remember the date of Dr. Forshoe's next visit, June 11th, and call early if you need his services as he is always rushed while here and remains only one day.

Cush Henderson, who was shot by Geo. Tucker, is up and was in town Tuesday. Tucker's trial is set for tomorrow and will probably not be further postponed.

Whetcutting has commenced in Todd county and that cut has been found to be well filled. In many sections farmers are making heavy complaint of rust.

The ladies of the Episcopal church placed the printers in the KENTUCKIAN office under obligations Wednesday for a delicious cake. Of course they "took the cake."

The exercises, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc., at the Baptist church Tuesday night by the young people's society were very entertaining.

The third quarterly meeting for Fairview circuit will be held next Saturday and Sunday at Shiloh church, near J. W. Bigham presiding. A full attendance is desired.

The trustees of the Ninth Street Presbyterian Church have bought for a paragon the Jared Gant place on Campbell Street, paying therefor $5,000 cash. Possession to be given Jan. 1.

Next Sunday will be Children's Day at the First Presbyterian church. The exercises will be held in the morning. The programme includes recitations by the little children, responsive reading, singing, etc. Everybody is cordially invited.

The Cumberland Presbyterian church will hold the Children's Day services in the afternoon next Sunday, commencing at 3 o'clock. The program is a good one and a general invitation is extended.

The heaviest rain fall experienced for many years fell at Guthrie last Monday and everything was for a time deluged. In places the water was five feet deep but soon disappeared under the fine drainage system around that place which in former years was so much needed.

The handsome catalogues for South Kentucky College were printed and bound at this office, and in a shorter time than they were ever gotten out before. It will be seen from the courses of study that this is one of the best and most thorough institutions of learning in the country. The faculty was never composed of a more competent corps of instructors and the college is in every way worthy the support of the public.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the stomach, and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Mariagn Licenses.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

Eurastus Moses Killed to Death After a Fair Warning of the Approach of the Train.

As the North bound passenger train was nearing the city yesterday and when only a short distance from the 13th street crossing Eurastus Moses attempted to cross the track at that point and was hurled a distance of forty feet, sustaining injuries from which he died in about ten minutes. The engineer blew his whistle several times to warn him of the approach of the train but Mr. Moses, who was carrying a bucket of water, failed to clear the track before the train was upon him. Several parties witnessed the dreadful accident. The body was removed to his residence, cor. 11th and Campbell streets, where an inquest was held.

Deceased was 66 years of age and leaves a wife and one son, 17 years old. He was a native of New York, but had lived in this state for a number of years, and in this city for six years.

Until recently he had been in the employ of Woodruff & Co., as a night watchman and was considered an honest and industrious old man.

At the Opera House.

The entertainment at Holland's opera house last night by the Cordell Blue and the societies of South Kentucky college was alike creditable to the students and faculty of the college, and entertaining to the large and select audience in attendance.

It was a Grecian Dramatic Potpourri, original and selected, arranged and adopted by Miss Roscoe Lipscomb, of the faculty of the college.

The scene of the play is laid in Athens about the beginning of the period of Macedonian supremacy. The Athenians, having received false news of the death of Alexander of Macedonia, testify their gratitude to the gods for the death of their foe by a festival at the Theatre of Dionysus.

At the conclusion of the play, a fugitive arrives from Thebes announcing the fall of that city and the approach of the man they supposed dead. They all repair to the Parthenon to invoke the protection of Minerva.

The play was rendered by the students of the college, who are members of the societies before mentioned, under the management of Miss Lipscomb, teacher of literature.

The names of those who took part in the play are: R. H. Wilson, T. C. Underwood, Mortimer Harrison, J. H. Scott, Carlin Salter, Isaac Miller, Annie Widener, Norma Irtan, J. O. Cook, G. T. Nelson, W. H. Abington, Mary Poland, Stanley Long, Emily Wheeler, Georgia Sled, I. M. Lindson, Jennie Winfree, Emma Hill, Alice Scobey, Nellie Fox, Annie Dade, Lizzie Gorman, Lucy Campbell, Florence Rives, Ida Harrison, Nellie Chastula and T. L. Gant.

Thin parts were well rendered and the attention of the audience was unflagging throughout. Several passages approximated fair professional acting, and called forth hearty applause. For amateur and college students, the play was eminently creditable throughout, and reflected an extraordinary merit in those who rendered it as well as in the college they represented.

The costumes were worthy of special note. They were in perfect keeping with the exquisite taste, and true to the history of the age and country they were designed to represent.

They displayed the beauty of the girls to special advantage. In the closing scene, when all the players arranged themselves around the statue of Minerva to invoke the protection of that goddess, and in the procession of the priestesses, the beauty and loveliness of the girls in costume were subjects of general remark.

As an entertainment of college literary societies it was a success in every sense, and more than sustained the high reputation of South Kentucky College.

Art Display.

C. E. West & Co., the sewing machine men, gave a display three days of this week of artistic work and embroidery done on the White and Domestic machines. The exhibit was one of the handsomest ever seen in this city. It was under the charge of Miss Ida Sharp, of Cleveland, O., who executed many specimens of elegant embroidered representations of animals, landscapes and even portraits of persons. The store was handsomely decorated with fine needlework for the occasion and many ladies attended the opening from day to day.

Dr. Foreman Coming.

Dr. Foreman, the celebrated Specialist of Louisville, Ky., will be at the Phoenix Hotel Tuesday, June 11th. The Doctor's reputation for honesty in his professional opinion is well known here. His long experience in private and Hospital practice makes him familiar with chronic diseases. He calls special attention to his advertisement in the paper. Come early. One day only.

County Correspondence.

CROFTON.

Crofton, Ky., June 5.—Prof. A. G. Beecham's school will close to-morrow. It has been one of the most prosperous terms that the academy has ever enjoyed and too much cannot be said in behalf of the principal and his assistant, Prof. H. B. Newton, for their untiring energy in training the young idea how to shoot. Miss Mattie Johnson has been in charge of the music department of this school eighteen months and one has only to hear her students run the scale to appreciate the work she has accomplished in this branch in so short a time. Her students will bring joy and sunshine into many a home in after years by the instruction given them while under her care; for it has correctly been said that music bathes the soul in the softest of light.

The firm of Croft & Clark, druggist, has dissolved partnership by mutual consent. Mr. Clark retiring from the business.

Miss Della Myers, of Kelly, Ky., is visiting her many friends here this week.

Miss Ray, of Slaughter'sville, Ky., is visiting Mrs. Lovell this week.

Miss John P. Prouse and Miss Williamson, of your city, came down today to attend the commencement exercises of Prof. Beecham's school.

A telegram was received here Sunday that Mrs. John Keith, who is at Mont Eagle, Tenn., was very ill. Her husband left on the first train for that point and reports that she is now improving.
